

In-company Training

If there is one area that is constantly evolving, it is information technology. To stay on top of the latest trends, today's businesses need to invest in training their people. And when companies want information technology training, they turn to Doussou Formation. Doussou Formation offers more than 101 training titles ready for you.

Our team is made up of 15 experts in their respective fields.

We favor small groups (maximum of five learners) for maximum customization, retention and practice.

97% of our clients are satisfied with our training.

Our trainers go to your company, which allows you to:

Avoid a loss of productivity caused by the displacement of the employee.
Work on your equipment and programs to maximize the transfer of training.
Include some of your realities and maximize the personalization of the training.

Share confidential information between classmates without problems.

Build an even stronger team spirit.

– Companies like TC Transcontinental, Videotron, Bell Media, Desjardins, and National Bank, to name a few, have trusted us
